HISTORIA DE LA UNIVERSIDAD ESTATAL DE FLORIDA

En 1851, los legisladores estatales establecieron dos instituciones de educación superior en Florida al este y al oeste del río Suwanee. El propósito de estas escuelas era instruir a hombres y mujeres en el arte de enseñar todas las facetas de una educación escolar común, así como proporcionar instrucción en las artes mecánicas; agricultura; leyes fundamentales; y los derechos y deberes de los ciudadanos. En 1856, cuando los representantes estatales aceptaron la oferta del alcalde de Tallahassee, Francis Eppes, de terrenos de propiedad municipal y el edificio escolar existente del Instituto de la Florida, Tallahassee se convirtió en el hogar permanente de la institución occidental.

Después de la Guerra Civil, el Instituto de la Florida entró en un período de crecimiento y desarrollo. En 1897 se había convertido en la primera universidad de artes liberales en el estado, y en 1901 se convirtió en Florida State College. En 1905, la Legislatura reorganizó el sistema educativo de Florida. La escuela se convirtió en una universidad para mujeres y fue renombrada Florida State College for Women. Sin embargo, cuando terminó la Segunda Guerra Mundial, los veteranos que regresaban requerían recursos educativos adicionales. En 1947, el gobernador firmó un acta de la Legislatura que devolvía al FSCW a una institución mixta y lo renombraba como Universidad Estatal de Florida.

Los años 50 y 60 trajeron un mayor desarrollo y expansión con la adición de nuevas facultades y escuelas, como Negocios, Biblioteconomía, Bienestar Social (más tarde dividido en Trabajo Social y Criminología), y Enfermería. Los años 70 y 80 vieron el establecimiento de programas en Estudios Afroamericanos, Estudios de la Mujer, y la expansión y el fortalecimiento del Programa de Artes Liberales. De 1957 a 2000, FSU abrió centros de estudio en Ciudad de Panamá, República de Panamá; Florencia, Italia; Londres, Inglaterra; y Valencia, España. Los Programas Internacionales de FSU ofrecen oportunidades de estudio que varían de año en año, pero pueden incluir ubicaciones en Australia, China, Costa Rica, Croacia, República Checa, Ecuador, Francia, Irlanda, Japón, Rusia y Suiza. Además, el Centro para el Compromiso Global organiza programas de intercambio en Jamaica y Alemania (Beyond Borders).

Entre 2001 y 2015, se abrió una nueva Facultad de Medicina, y se agregaron campus médicos regionales en todo el estado. En 2005, la iniciativa Senderos de Excelencia fue diseñada para contratar profesorado de forma competitiva para mejorar la reputación de la universidad a través de una serie de objetivos estratégicos. Lo más notable es que se cumplieron los puntos de referencia que llevaron a FSU a ser nombrada una universidad preeminente por la Legislatura de Florida, que la estableció en un camino para convertirse en una de las 25 mejores universidades públicas de la nación.

En cada década siguiente, la Universidad Estatal de Florida ha ampliado su organización académica, y actualmente incluye dieciocho colegios independientes. La Universidad ofrece 267 licenciaturas, másters y títulos especializados, así como 84 grados de doctorado, incluyendo el Juris Doctor en Derecho y el Doctor en Medicina. Los esfuerzos recientes se han centrado en elevar la reputación de la universidad como una institución de investigación preeminente; presidir una campaña de recaudación de fondos de mil millones de dólares; promover la misión académica y de investigación de la universidad; defender la diversidad y la inclusión; convirtiéndose en uno de los campus más amigables con los veteranos en el país; y dando la bienvenida a los mejores y más brillantes estudiantes en la historia de la Universidad

LA TRIBU SEMINOLE DE FLORIDA

La tribu Seminole de Florida y la Universidad Estatal de Florida mantienen una estrecha relación basada en la amistad, el respeto y el apoyo mutuo. La tribu Seminole de Florida es un pueblo valiente, tenaz y decidido que, contra grandes adversidades, luchó con éxito para preservar su cultura y vivir de acuerdo con sus tradiciones y creencias. Desde 1947, FSU se ha identificado con orgullo con esta tribu heroica. El uso que FSU hace del nombre de esta tribu honra su fuerza y valentía, que nunca se rindieron y finalmente perseveraron.

ORDEN DE LA CONFERENCIA DE TÍTULOS

El orden en que se otorgan los títulos ha sido establecido por tradición. Comenzando con el colegio más nuevo de la universidad, los títulos se otorgan en sucesión procediendo hacia el colegio más antiguo. Por lo tanto, en La Universidad Estatal de la Florida, el Colegio Dedman de Hospitalidad es el primero y el Colegio de Artes y Ciencias es el último en otorgar títulos.

VESTIMENTA ACADEMICA

Siguiendo las costumbres universitarias medievales, actualmente, la vestimenta académica refleja el estatus, el logro y la disciplina académicos del estudiante. Los colores de los adornos de las togas de doctorado, los ribetes de las capas y las borlas de los birretes usados por los candidatos de pregrado universitario reflejan el área de estudio académico del estudiante.

Los colores vistos en una ceremonia de graduación de FSU son tradicionales e incluyen el blanco para artes y humanidades, marrón para las bellas artes, amarillo dorado para la ciencia, azul claro para la educación, rosado para la música, amarillo limón (cítrico) para el trabajo social, marrón claro para negocios, morado para las leyes, naranja claro para enfermería, marrón rojizo para las ciencias humanas y el verde para la medicina.

El título del candidato universitario está reflejado en su toga y capa. Una toga abrochada en la parte superior y con las mangas largas puntiagudas es usada por quienes tienen un título universitario de bachiller. La toga de maestría, que se usa abierta, tiene mangas largas cinceladas con una abertura cerca a la parte superior del brazo. La toga de doctorado, que se usa también abierta, tiene una amplia franja de terciopelo que tiene barras transversales de terciopelo en cada manga. Las franjas pueden ser de terciopelo negro o de terciopelo de colores que indican la disciplina del título y coincidirá con el ribete de la capa.

Las capas son usadas por los que tienen un título de postgrado. La capa de doctorado es más larga y elaborada que la capa de maestría. En FSU, el revestimiento de la capa es granate y dorado, que representan los colores de la Universidad. Sin embargo, un miembro de la facultad que tiene un título de otra escuela o universidad usa una capa que esta revestida con los colores de su alma mater, con ribetes que representan su disciplina académica.

El color de la borla del birrete del candidato de pregrado universitario indica el título del candidato. Los candidatos a obtener un título de postgrado usualmente usan borlas negras; sin embargo, el birrete de doctorado puede tener una borla de hilo dorado. En el momento que se otorga el título universitario de bachiller, la borla se cambia del lado derecho al lado izquierdo del birrete. A partir de entonces, permanece en el lado izquierdo del birrete.

La continuidad de estos símbolos académicos se remonta a la Edad Media, y la tradición dicta que se deben cambiar lo menos posible, no sólo para preservar el simbolismo del modelo y el color, sino también por su utilidad.

Los estudiantes que usen cordones en la ceremonia de hoy se están graduando con un grado de distinción. Esta distinción está basada en todo el trabajo universitario realizado y se otorga solo a estudiantes que van a obtener el título de bachiller universitario (pregrado). Los estudiantes deben tener una calificación de 3.5 de promedio para graduarse Cum Laude (cordón de oro), un promedio de 3.7 para Magna Cum Laude (cordón granate) y 3.9 de promedio de calificaciones para Summa Cum Laude (granate y cordón de oro).

EL MAZO

Con orígenes en la Edad Media, el mazo es un bastón ornamental que simboliza la autoridad del presidente de la Universidad. El mazo de FSU, creado de nuez negra nativa de la región y plata dorada, fue diseñada por Ivan Jonson, Profesor de Arte de FSU. El trabajo en madera es el esfuerzo de James C. Smith, Profesor Distinguido de Psicología de Lawton de 1992-1993, y el trabajo en metal es producto del exalumno de FSU, Donald Vodicka.

El Mariscal de la Universidad lleva el mazo ante el presidente de la Universidad cuando la procesión académica entra y se retira de las convocatorias académicas.

EL MEDALLON

El medallón, cual tiene el sello de la Universidad, fue presentado por primera vez al presidente de la Universidad, Bernard Sliger, por la Asociación de exalumnos en la Convocatoria de Otoño del 1988. Richard McCullough es el séptimo presidente en usar el medallón de bronce como símbolo de la oficina en funciones académicas formales.

EL ESTANDARTE

El Estandarte es el rango más alto de las insignias de armas, tipos de bandera con significado heráldico, que data de la época medieval. Un caballero que había mostrado una conducta particularmente valerosa se hizo conocido como Caballero Banneret y se le permitió mostrar su escudo de armas en una bandera cuadrada o una bandera llevada en su lanza. El Banner marcaba la posición del portador en la batalla, en una ceremonia o en un torneo.

Al igual que el mazo, la bandera es uno de los dispositivos heráldicos medievales adoptados por las facultades de las universidades en Escocia en el 1400 para embellecer las ceremonias académicas. Hoy los utilizamos para identificar los colegios que participan en convocatorias académicas formales.
